Statement: Leadership Counsel for Justice and Accountability

Right now, inherent racism built into systems, institutions, and hearts and minds is on full display. Black and brown souls are unnecessarily lost to COVID-19 due to racist indifference in the form of unjust policies and practices, while Black women, men, and children are hunted and murdered by systems designed to maintain white supremacy. We must question how our actions and decisions in our own communities, families and lives contribute to injustice. This country has not and will never heal as long as rampant injustice remains unchecked and tolerated, and as long as too many of us look on with our hands in our pockets.

As an organization primarily working in partnership with Latino communities in the San Joaquin and East Coachella Valleys, we are committed to elevating and combating anti-Blackness as it manifests in words, policies and actions. We stand in solidarity and stand in allyship. Black Lives Matter today and every day.

Organize, fight for justice, demand accountability, vote.